Pair of stage theatre spotlights by the English company Strand Electric Theatre Light, model: Strand Pattern 23, known as Baby spot. The electrical wiring has been restored by replacing the original lamp holder with a standard E27 for convenience in finding the otherwise unobtainable lamp with the original bayonet fitting. Ventilated die cast aluminium body and lens tube group, with front and rear reflectors. Original 3.5´´ convex lens plus fixing ring. Gel frame blocks. The external body is polished like the internal plates, the knobs are in black bakelite, the lamp holder is in original ceramic. Great Britain, circa 1953. (Also sold separately)
